Biografia

Sebastien Clamorgan is a business man and entrepreneur with more than 25 years of experience working in various areas such as consultancy and representation of multinationals, private equity, shipping & logistics to infrastructure, food & beverage and real estate businesses, mostly in Africa and in the Middle East. He founded Venia International in the late 90s, a global consulting and investment firm whose purpose was to open the gateways to Africa and the Middle East. Over the years, the company carried out several projects concerning multiple sectors of the industry, in order to become a reference point of the area. Following the surprising results, Venia International kept on launching projects throughout the region, building some joint ventures with companies operating in different fields: food and beverage, oil & gas, logistics and shipping. Currently, the company founded by Sebastien Clamorgan boasts over 3000 employees.
